InstallerFUTURES is the student programme at InstallerSHOW on Thursday 27th June.

Inspiring the next generation

We think it's important to invest time in the next generation of construction and building services professionals - that's YOU!

To help make you feel welcome at the industry's number one trade show, InstallerFUTURES has been designed to provide you with a structured visit to the InstallerSHOW, where you'll enjoy dedicated content - put on just for you - alongside a visit to the show itself.

InstallerFUTURES supports the next generation of installer and engineering professionals

What to expect

On the day you will enjoy your very own tailored journey through the InstallerSHOW. InstallerFUTURES starts with a short presentation designed to provide you with some valuable insight into the industry you will soon be joining. This will be followed by an interview and Q&A session with one of our influencers, 1-1 meet-and-greets with potential employers and interactive discussions with relevant exhibitors. There's even a practical skills competition for you to sink your teeth into over lunch!

Don't forget to pick up your FREE lunch!
